

BRYN JONES – BIOGRAPHY

Over the last thirty years, Bryn Jones has played over 5000 shows, from stadium concerts to neighborhood dives. With his band, Los Bastardos Finlandeses he has toured with some of the biggest names, including Aerosmith and Motorhead. As a lone troubadour, his voice is center stage, rich with character and experience, accompanied by his heart on sleeve guitar style. His rock background brings an attitude and intensity rarely seen in a one man band and he has been a popular, ever present performer on Finland's Radio Rock cruises.

Now he is taking the leap to play original music in solo shows. No easy job when everybody knows that he has one of the largest repertoires of cover songs committed to memory. However his songs are solid, from confessional to comedic; from love songs to protest anthems and running the gamut of emotions from elation to despair .

The Troubadour Whore CD captured live performances of Bryn singing, playing acoustic guitar and harmonica. Jukka Jylli (Kingston Wall) recorded and mixed the album. He has added bass to some songs, a touch of keyboard or mandolin here and there, and yet it retains a raw, stripped down vibe.

Don't miss the chance to see Bryn live in the next stage of his musical journey. His live set features songs from his previous solo CD, Bug Jam Ballistic (2006), Los Bastardos songs unplugged, the Troubadour Whore CD in its entirety as well as a couple of brand new songs. And if you have got any requests, don't be shy! Bryn is available for bookings in 2018 and can be contacted via phone, email, Facebook or Website.
